Here and There

—WALLACE AT BAT

Mr Wallace's New York speech has caused an international ripple that won't die soon. No doubt it made the Russians happy, but the British angry as he lashed at Britain's "imperialism." He seemed to overlook two facts: First that unless United States and Britain work together, Russia will be strong enough to direct world affairs. Mr Wallace doesn't want this to happen, but his speech would make you think that he did. The British press violently resented his charge of selfish interests in Palestine and the East. It may be true that Britain intends to protect her interests, but she has already offered India self government, as soon as they can make up their minds on what kind of government they want. The bloody riots in Bombay and Calcutta, (see last week's issue), vindicate the British policy.

Remember too, that Britain asked United States to sit with her in settling the Palestine fiasco. She refused. Didn't want to accept such a thorny task and then Mr Wallace proceeds to castigate the "selfish" British. He has forgotten that his view does not represent the outlook of most Americans. The irritated U.S. press demanded a showdown on American foreign policy. They want to know if Mr Byrnes, the foreign secretary, or Mr Wallace, a member of the cabinet, is setting the policy. To some extent, it was a betrayal of his fellow cabinet members.

The Republicans see in it a possible split in the Democratic party which, with elections approaching, might change the scene.

Russian reaction, as usual, is still not known, but they will be happy if they can secure a cleavage between Britain and United States. They then would be free to force Britain's hand in the Mediterranean.

Snaps and Scraps

If the atmosphere at breakfast is charged, we pay for it all day.

The flag of the British Nation is called the Union Jack, it is the conquering ensign of a people who have fought for Freedom's cause since the Crusades. The Union Jack is a triple cross, the ensigns of three great Saints, St George of England, St Andrew of Scotland and St Patrick of Ireland, placed on the same flag they tell the story of three great nations in one union. Knights of old flew the red St George Cross in their fight for the Holy Sepulchre. Men of old with the spirit of adventure in their blood, carried the same red cross on a white field to the far unknown places of the world, thus they claimed for England, many rich lands.

The white diagonal cross on a field of blue is the cross of St Andrew, brother of Simon Peter, who carried the message of Christianity into Asia Minor and along the coast of the Black Sea. When St Andrew was crucified on the x shaped cross Scotland held his bones, thus he belongs to Scotland, as does the white diagonal cross.

The red diagonal cross of St Patrick of Ireland was added to the other two crosses in January, 1801.

Progress Towards Unity

A LITTLE MORE THAN A YEAR has now elapsed since the war ended, and it is already apparent that the peace which was so eagerly awaited has, up to the present at least, been uneasy. There is still much basis for hope that plans for world co-operation and prolonged peace may be worked out, but there are also indications that much time and patience may be required before these hopes can be realized in every part of the world. It has frequently been observed that the British Commonwealth of Nations might well be taken as an example of what could be accomplished on a world scale in the way of unity among nations, and the close co-operation between Britain, Canada and the United States during the war offered further tangible proof of the practicability of united effort on an international basis.

Canada Continues To Co-operate

At the present time Canada is continuing to co-operate both with Britain and the United States in matters of defence and military science. Because of this country's geographic position, our interests in defence are linked with the United States in matters affecting this hemisphere, and with Britain in respect to Empire defence. It is reported from London that "unobtrusive steps are being taken to assess and improve commonwealth and empire defence organizations and to keep abreast of developments in military science." It is also emphasized, however, that "all discussions of commonwealth defence by United Kingdom officials are prefaced by two statements: first, that they look forward to the United Nations eventually taking over international defence duties; and second, that the commonwealth governments are independent and make their own decisions, London simply being the seat of one of the governments."

A Link Between Great Powers

Hemispheric defence is already, under the competent direction of the Canada-United States defence board, of which General McNaughton is co-chairman. General McNaughton is also Canada's representative on the United Nations atomic commission. It is clear that Canada, through her close ties with both the British Commonwealth and the United States will continue to carry out the important role she assumed during the war, as a strong link between the two great English-speaking powers. In war, these people showed what tremendous results could be achieved when their efforts and resources were united for a common purpose, and there is a growing opinion in favour of closer co-operation between the British Commonwealth and the United States as the only means of assuring world security and continued peace. Canada has already clearly demonstrated her interest and approval in such co-operation.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—I have heard ration coupons which have been issued to the armed services and temporary farm helpers referred to as "Beaver" coupons and also "Buffalo" coupons. Is there any difference between these coupons?

A.—The "Beaver" coupons was the name given to unnumbered ration coupons. After September 30 these coupons are to be replaced by the "Buffalo" coupons. The "Beaver" coupons will be invalidated as of Thursday, October 31, 1946, which cover the purchase of meat, sugar, preserves and butter. The "Beaver" coupons which cover the purchase of evaporated milk expire on December 31, 1946.

Q.—When is the Wartime Prices and Trade Board going to terminate the issuing of priority suit certificates to ex-servicemen and women?

A.—No priority suit certificates will be issued after October 30. However, those certificates issued prior to October 30 will be honoured until the end of this year by clothing merchants and tailors.

Q.—I did not obtain my ration book during the week of distribution. Do I apply at the Local Ration Board for my book?

A.—Any persons who do not secure their ration books during the distribution period should mail their application card, RB 191, fully made out and signed, to any Local Ration Board in their vicinity. In this case, the card should be detached—the ration book itself should not be mailed and the new book will be forwarded as soon as possible. The application card is found at the back of ration book five.

Q.—Are we still supposed to turn in meat tokens and coupons which we do not need for our own use?

A.—Every coupon and token turned in means more meat can be shipped overseas to the hungry areas. Turn in all coupons and tokens that can be spared to the Location Ration Board in your district or the registered custodian of an organization.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your selling prices, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Judgment Handed Down In Arizona In Manslaughter Case

Automobile drivers in general, and reckless drivers in particular, should mark with more than casual interest a judgment handed down recently in Phoenix, Arizona, in a manslaughter case arising out of a traffic accident. The young man who pleaded guilty to responsibility for the death of a young woman who was the mother of two children, was ordered by the judge to turn over each payday "not less than ten per cent. of his earnings" for support of the two children until they reach the age of 21. One of the children is four years old, one is only three months. —Montreal Gazette.

Order From McArthur

Statue Of Queen Victoria Must Be Returned To Hong Kong

The statue of Queen Victoria which General MacArthur has ordered the Japanese to find and restore to its site in Hong Kong will be remembered by elderly Londoners. In the '90s it stood at the corner of Horse Guards avenue on part of some land now covered by the War Office. Royal sculptures were then, as now, controlled by the Office of Works. The Minister responsible for the transfer of the statue to Hong Kong was Mr. Shaw-Lefevre, later Lord Eversley, of the last Gladstone Government.

BEING MICROFILMED

National Registration Card Record Will Take Up Small Space

National registration, which proved itself useful in wartime emergency and wedged itself firmly into Canadian life during its six years of existence, already is well on its way to being completely dismantled.

Since it joined other outmoded war restrictions on the discard pile last Aug. 15, the staff in charge of the records, once numbering about 300, has been cut to half.

Now the 9,250,000 registration cards will be microfilmed, and the original records, taking up more than 30,000 square feet of office space in one of Ottawa's temporary buildings, will be destroyed. The present staff then will be reduced to a custodian staff of about 10.

And that's that. You may find it handy for identification purposes, but you can throw away that national registration certificate without the slightest fear of reprimand. Its official value is nil.

Handled Job Well

Scottish War Bride Was Britain's First Woman Bus Driver

What's in a man's job anyway? Mrs. William Reeve, a Scottish war bride who recently joined her husband in Guelph, Ont., says that during the war she was the first woman bus driver in the British Isles, was also a guard for German prisoners and has been a police-woman in Glasgow.

She drove her father's trucks at 14, attended an engineering school for three years and then turned policeman in her home city. Come the war she took a man-sized job—driving trucks for the Glasgow Transportation Corporation. Later she drove a ration truck for the British Ministry of Food and for two years was in sole charge of transporting 50 German prisoners of war.

About Canada she said "it is a swell country, except for the wee huses."

To Deal With Question Of Tax Relations

OTTAWA.—Some provincial legislatures may call autumn sessions to deal with the question of tax relations with the federal government in the light of developments since the Dominion-provincial conference broke up in disagreement, it was learned.

Manitoba has already indicated that it will call a fall session to deal with a new agreement with the federal government or to arrange for re-entry into the fields abandoned under provisions of the 1942 wartime tax agreements. Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and New Brunswick are the only provinces which have opened negotiations for a new agreement with the Dominion.

Should other provinces not open such negotiations soon they likely will call fall sessions to make arrangements necessary for the operation of tax machinery which was in existence when the wartime agreement was concluded.

With the expiry dates of the wartime agreements stretching from the end of next month to the end of next March, it is believed that all provinces will soon make their position known so they can go forward with plans for their respective budgets for the coming fiscal year.

Federal authorities have indicated that the possibilities of a new Dominion-provincial conference are remote unless the provinces get together and bring forward proposals which they believe might be acceptable to all governments.

Possibility of the provinces agreeing to any set of proposals for presentation to the Dominion also was considered remote by observers here.

What the provinces now have before them is the federal offer put forward in the budget. In it the Dominion suggested that the provinces agree to undertake on behalf of themselves and their municipalities to vacate the personal income tax field for the term of the agreement. In the corporation income tax field a uniform five per cent. tax would be collected for the provinces by the Dominion.

In succession duties, the provinces would have the choice of not levying taxes or of accepting a deduction in annual payments from the Dominion equivalent to the amount collected. The agreeing provinces would be paid $15 per capita based on the value of gross national production.

The new agreements would run for five years, but they would be purely on an optional basis.

Provinces which do not enter the plan will be free to impose personal income tax and taxpayers in those provinces will be able to offset the provincial tax against up to five per cent. of the federal tax. There would be complete freedom to impose provincial corporation taxes, but they would not be deductible for Dominion tax purposes.

SERIOUS SHORTAGE

Coal Situation In Britain Shows No Sign Of Improvement

LONDON.—Britain's serious coal shortage is resulting in loss of foreign exchange, boosting tramp shipping rates on imports and speeding conversion of British vessels from coal to oil fueling.

The shortage has been attributed to lack of manpower and mechanization in the mines, coupled with growing demands by Britain's export industry for coal, electricity and coke for industrial purposes.

"Grain in and coal out" has always been the stand-by of the tramp fleets. Now inbound cargoes must carry the cost of round trips because vessels cannot get coal at British ports and are forced to sail in ballast.

Coal exports in 1938 were 40,000,000 tons, bringing in almost 10 per cent. of total revenues from sales abroad. For the year ending next May 1 the maximum is 8,200,000 tons, including foreign bunkers.

No early improvement can be expected. Fuel Minister Shinwell has reported a 5,000,000-ton deficit in the country's coal supplies, threatening large-scale industrial stoppages this winter.

The situation is so bad that many ships are coaling only for outward voyages, refueling where possible abroad.

BEING BUILT UP

Herd Of Fur Seals On Pribiloff Islands Show Increase

VICTORIA.—The herd of fur seals on the Pribiloff Islands, only source for North America, now amounts to about 3,000,000 animals, probably almost as many as before the herd was depleted almost to extinction in the last century. Dr. G. C. Carl, director of the British Columbia museum, said.

The catch this year amounted to 65,000 skins, Dr. Carl said.

REQUIRE KNOWLEDGE

MONTREAL.—Hugh Savage, publisher of the weekly Cowichan Leader, Duncan, B.C., said that selection of a distinctive flag of a country must be made by those versed in the science of heraldry.

CANADIAN SEEKS AIR RECORD

Squadron Leader W. A. Waterton, A.F.C., a Canadian, is second pilot of the R.A.F. high-speed flight which will attempt to raise the air speed record in the new Meteor aircraft with Rolls Royce Derwent V jet engines. The attack on the record will be made as soon as weather conditions are favorable on the test course between Littlehampton and Worthing, England.

Britain's Iron Industry To Be Nationalized

LONDON.—Nationalization of Britain's sprawling iron and steel industry will be carried out before the 1950 election, supply ministry spokesmen said, and appointment of a six-man "efficiency" board indicates no modification of the Labor government's public ownership program.

Legislation is not expected during parliament's 1946-47 session. There has been no hard-and-fast decision yet on how the state-owned industry will be run or just where nationalization ends and private enterprise begins.

Lack of official progress reports has brought a wave of rumors that Supply Minister John Wilmot has pigeon-holed his plan until he sees whether government "supervision" of the industry will be enough.

"But you can be sure that hasn't happened," said a departmental officer. "Public ownership is going ahead."

"The job isn't going to be easy. This is the first real fight between socialism and capitalism. The industry has refused to participate in drafting a nationalization plan."

"Nevertheless, public ownership is going to come—probably not next session but definitely before 1950."

The new National Steel Board—with two representatives of the industry, two industrialists representing the large consumers, a trade unionist and an independent chairman—has nothing to do with nationalization.

HARVEST LABOR

Report Says Many Men Do Not Want To Work

CALGARY.—J. R. Boon, in charge of harvest labor placements for the provincial government, said Ontario harvest workers are coming to Alberta and snatching jobs out from under the noses of Alberta men. But he wasn't complaining.

He said the Ontario men are coming here to work and are getting jobs, while dozens of Alberta men hanging around the employment offices don't want to work.

His opinion was corroborated by officials at the farm labor branch of the national employment service office in Calgary. They said they had filed many names of local men who won't consider a job unless it has big pay and little work.

There is currently a surplus of harvest labor, taking into account the large number of men who aren't anxious to work.

PLAN APPROVED

British Proposal Requires Romania To Respect Rights Of Jews

PARIS.—The Romanian political commission unanimously approved a Big Four plan to let the Soviet Union maintain occupation troops in Romania so long as the Red Army is in Austria.

At the same time, but over strong Soviet bloc objections, the commission approved by a vote of seven to five the British proposal requiring Romania specifically to respect the property and rights of Jews in that country.

United States delegate, Averell Harriman, supported the British move, saying the "Allies can do well to give Jews all the assurances possible."

MIGHT BE DIFFICULT

COPENHAGEN.—Dr. J. F. Booth, Canada's representative on the Food and Agriculture Organization committee discussing next year's food supplies, said Canada would have difficulty in maintaining her present stringent controls on grain use if countries receiving grain for food also used up much grain for building up their livestock.

WOLVES BLAMED

Have Destroyed Claim Tags Say Yellowknife Mining Prospectors

EDMONTON.—Prospectors in the Yellowknife mining area have never been plagued by "claim jumpers" in their years of exploration work but recently several claim stakes have been tampered with and wilderness vandals are blamed.

For some reason, unknown to mining men, timber wolves have taken a dislike to claim tags and have destroyed several in their secret attacks.

Three aluminum tags, which had been ripped from stakes on claimed property, were brought to Edmonton by Hon. J. L. Glen, federal minister of mines and resources, who visited Yellowknife recently.

The powerful beasts had torn the tags and stakes to which they were nailed and chewed them into crumpled, broken bits of metal.

Northerners can't decide whether the wolves are attracted to the tags when they glisten in the sun or whether some lingering odor of human handling causes the attacks.

The tags were found a few feet from the stakes where wolves dropped them after a thorough chewing.

CALGARY BAND IS THROUGH

CALGARY.—Military authorities announced the dissolution of No. 13 district depot band, strength of the unit, originally 34, was 18.

BAY ROUTE

Differences Of Opinion As To Its Utility

PRINCE ALBERT.—A call to stop "losing half-hatched eggs at each other" over the Hudson Bay route and the Churchill port was issued by A. J. Hansen, director of the Hudson Bay Route Association, following his return from Churchill, Man.

Mr. Hansen said the future of the route and port lay between the two extremes of those who condemn, and at times ridicule, the enterprise and "those forces in the west who will have the western primary producers believe their future economic salvation lies in the so-called hundred per cent. utilization of the Hudson Bay route as a means of exportation of our vast agricultural surpluses."

He said he believed the longest feasible open period each year for the Hudson Bay route is 4½ months and that a minimum of 115,000,000 bushels of grain, potential cargo for 45 ships, with additional cargoes of lumber, fish, and mineral products must be set as an immediate annual objective.

TAKE SOUNDINGS

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C.—Echo depth sounding equipment has disclosed several "bumps" on the floor of Chatham sound which may be the remains of the ill-fated flying boat "Skeena Queen" lost on a mercy flight.

ESCAPES FATAL CRASH

A last-minute switch in travel plans saved the life of Premier Constantine Tsaldaris of Greece when he went from Paris to London to invite King George II back to the Greek throne. Just before the plane on which he was to be a passenger took off, Tsaldaris decided to make the trip by train and boat. The plane crashed a few minutes later, killing 21.

Many Chinese Are Returning To The Orient

VANCOUVER.—Canadian Chinese, locked out of their homeland by war for the last seven years, are taking advantage of resumption of passenger service to the Orient and going home in droves.

Li Chao, Chinese consul general, said that more than 300 Chinese visited his office last month to arrange for passage to China. "Because Canadian immigration laws do not permit Chinese to bring their wives and children here, many are returning to visit their families," he said. "Others are going home to retire."

Frank Mah, local representative for a United States steamship line, (American Steamships) reported his company is only selling one way tickets to China because priority lists of persons waiting to leave China do not allow the sale of return passage.

One Chinese source reports that since the war business and real estate owned by city Chinese has had an abnormal turnover as those who are about to leave liquidated their capital assets. One banker, who declined to be quoted, said that in the last three months more than $1,500,000 has been changed from Canadian into Hong Kong dollars.

WERE ENCOURAGED

Forces Of Jap General Permitted To Massacre Singapore Residents

TOKYO.—The late Japanese Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita encouraged the massacre of Oriental residents of Singapore when his forces captured that British stronghold, a British army officer told the war crimes trial.

Col. Cyril Wild testified for the prosecution that Yamashita permitted Japanese military police in Singapore to carry out the "deliberate extermination" of Asiatic civilians. Wild said this information came to him from one of Yamashita's sub-commanders and through women members of his staff.

Yamashita, who once boasted he would dictate peace terms to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, was sentenced to death last December in Manila and hanged.

Wild, who was held a prisoner of the Japanese in Singapore, said that Indian members of the British army were beaten and starved if they refused to join the Japanese sponsored "Indian national army."

Those who joined, he said, were put into a better camp and served better food. Some were even given custody of captured British nationals.

Meanwhile, it was learned from documents which the prosecution will introduce as evidence that Japanese diplomats in Germany sent agents into Russia in 1938 to assassinate Premier Stalin.

ESTIMATES DOWN

Alberta Wheat Crop Not Up To Previous Expectations

CALGARY.—The latest report of the Alberta Wheat Pool scaled down crop estimates for the province because of "unfavorable conditions". The report said yields in the Peace River district were better than expected but listed all other parts as falling below earlier estimates.

The report said about two-thirds of the Alberta wheat crop is cut with 18 per cent. harvested. Coarse grains are 60 per cent. cut and 12 per cent. threshed.

WAR JOB FINISHED

LIVERPOOL, England.—Workmen began preparing the Mauretania for post-war service. "Demobbed" after carrying more than 300,000 servicemen and women, including thousands of Canadians, during the seven years' war service, the liner will be reconverted at an estimated cost of £1,000,000 ($4,000,000).

Makes A Plea For Homeless Of Europe

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y.—Blunt, outspoken Fiorello H. LaGuardia put before the land-rich countries of the world the pressing problem of Europe's 830,000 displaced persons with the challenging question: "How many of these people will you take?"

The UNRRA director-general was making a characteristically impassioned plea before the United Nations economic and social council for the world to come to the aid of the homeless of Europe. His remarks were aimed directly at Canada, the United States, South America and other countries with land available and a need for increased populations.

Reporting to his "bosses" on the affairs of the world relief agency he heads, as it prepares to turn its task over to a new organization to be set up by the economic council, the former mayor of New York city said as he began that he would "omit all the window dressing contained in the whereas clauses." His 45-minute address was not a speech; "the subject is just too tragic."

With many a barbed sentence and a sharp gesture, Mr. LaGuardia painted for the 18-power council a dismal picture of the post-war Europe through which he has just made an official tour. He urged that the council take over UNRRA's work as speedily as possible and demanded that Europe's displaced persons be absorbed within three years.

He had sharp words, too, for the "highest level of military authority" which he said held "disturbing and alarming views" on the question of handling the 830,000 displaced persons now in UNRRA camps in occupied territory. He backed up Yugoslav charges that Allied military officials had permitted dissemination of propaganda in D. P. camps against the governments of Yugoslavia and Poland.

"The Yugoslavs and Poles," he said, "have been subjected to propaganda that accounts for their resistance to returning home." He also had found D. P.s from the former Baltic states—Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania—were mainly of "one state of mind" in their opposition to returning to homes now under Russian jurisdiction.

RACE WITH TIME

Recruiting Campaign For R.A.F. Is Behind Schedule

LONDON.—March 31, the Royal Air Force Lord Tedder has announced that the R.A.F. recruiting campaign for 100,000 men by next March 31 is dangerously behind schedule and that the R.A.F. is threatened with being reduced to "impotence."

Simultaneously a war office spokesman told The Canadian Press that the army's drive for the same number of men is "definitely disappointing with the target seemingly out of reach." Only the navy, with its 50,000 objective, said recruiting progress is satisfactory.

"The position is dangerous—and I mean dangerous," Lord Tedder told a press conference as planes rehearsing for the Battle of Britain anniversary roared over his air ministry office.

"We have a race with time to fill up with volunteers before the drain-out of our wartime personnel reduces the whole force to impotence."

PALESTINE MOB

Many Jews Were Wounded In Clash With Troops

JERUSALEM.—British troops arrested 101 Jews and wounded two during an intensive hunt through Tel Aviv and nearby Ramat Gan for saboteurs responsible for killing three persons and injuring at least 12.

More than one-third of Palestine's Jews were under house arrest through a strict curfew for most of the day.

Fifty-four of the detainees were arrested in the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv, where two men were wounded in "active resistance to the searchers", a communiqué said.

Forty-seven persons were arrested in the search among Ramat Gan's 5,000 inhabitants, the announcement said, and the hunt there unearthed illegal pamphlets, a Sten gun and magazine, and some "war department training manuals."

SPACE ADEQUATE

PORT ARTHUR.—Grainmen, questioned regarding a proposal to store 100,000,000 bushels of wheat in Canada for international use, said the country has adequate facilities to handle that amount of "buffer stocks" and more, if necessary. The last available government report said Canada has elevator storage space for 603,000,000 bushels of grain.

STETTLE, Alta.—The school teacher shortage has hit southern Alberta, and 21 rural schools of the Stettler division remained closed when the new term opened. However, it is planned to open some of the schools as soon as possible with student supervisors substituting until teachers become available.

A BEAUTY SPOT IN RAYMOND

The above picture of the Town Hall was taken a number of years ago. It was built in 1930 when P. W. Cope was Mayor of the Town. We are sorry the picture doesn't show the beautiful flowers that from early spring have bloomed so profusely. The year the Town Hall was built Mr. Cope planted the grounds to potatoes and that was the year the work started.

For a couple of years Howard Cope looked after the grounds and he was succeeded by the late Charlie Walker. When ill health forced him to retire the job was given to Martin (Scotty) Blair and this year makes the sixth season he has worked on the Town Hall grounds.

I pass the Town Hall four times a day and I never pass but what I admire the grounds, the flowers have never bloomed more abundantly, nor has the grass been so green. Scotty has widened the borders and they are a solid mass of color. Snaps and Petunias in all their varied and vivid colors are everywhere. The Gladioli bed in the northwest corner is in full bloom, the sweet pea bed on the south side was gorgeous, and everywhere one looks are tiger lilies, dwarf dahlias, asters, geraniums, pansies and daisies.

A great deal of time and hard work is spent on the Town Hall grounds and they certainly show the results. Scotty is justly proud of his work and the grounds reflect the interest he takes in it. The Town Hall has never looked more beautiful and it is the leading beauty spot of the town. Next time you are up for the mail stop long enough to look at the grounds and you will see what I mean.

"MYWEEK"

by R. J. Denebman

War does get things balled up, doesn't it. It affects even a trifling little item like pepper. Believe it or not the world normally uses about 100 million pounds of pepper in a year. This year's production is estimated at 45 million pounds. Squeeze! Most of the pepper comes from the East Indies and the East Indies were pretty badly mixed up in the war. The present world price is about forty cents a pound, three times what it used to be. Much patching still has to be done before the world gets back on its feet again.

Still there are consolations in everything. The number of commercial failures in the Dominion of Canada in the first half of 1923 was 1,896 cattle in the latter date than there were in the former and this well known farm paper in one of the largest cattle states in the Union, was recommending that the farmers should cut down their herds in order to avoid an excess likely to cause lower prices. "There is no need to worry about a shortage of cattle", said the editorial, "rather it is good time for breeders to give serious consideration to a culling program."

The New York Times of Sunday September 8th, had a front page, double column head, which ran as follows: "Unparalleled Meat Famine Predicted for the Country". The story goes on to say: "Blame for the situation was placed by the livestock men on the reimposition of price controls, ceiling prices at the slaughtering level which went into effect at midnight Aug 31 and retail ceiling prices which become effective Tuesday."

This of course is a bit of bunk. The cattlemen cannot hold their livestock indefinitely merely because they are not satisfied with present high prices. It costs money to hold cattle after they reach market condition. The reimposition of controls will check shipments for a short time but it will not last long. Either there is an abundance of meat in the United States or they have become very much heavier meat eaters than they were previous to the war. Controls lead to a lot of bungling. The trouble is that once firmly established it's hard to let go and someone is always left with a sore thumb.

But we shouldn't go sort of beef in Canada, we have more cattle in proportion to population than they have in the United States. We shall survive no doubt if we are careful.

The Government has hinted pretty clearly that it doesn't expect to go any further with the steel strikers. Its tired and ought to be. Patience is getting worn out. The Prime Minister doesn't expect to run another election and that must be decidedly helpful in reaching a conclusion. A friend of mine suggested a few days ago that perhaps Parliament ought to be elected a year at a time with no members allowed to seek re-election. The members then would have no other object in life than to do the best they could for their one year of political life—he has something there are other things too that we need to import. Exports are standing up well though totals are down from war days. There is a difference. We were exporting munitions and war supplies. In our own defence we had to destroy our former customers. Now we must help to rebuild—bring them back to production. A prosperous Canada and a prosperous world.

On Books and Libraries

After two world wars and one world depression citizens of our Canadian prairies, with people everywhere, are searching for a key to peace and happiness. In the present changing world the need is for values that will provide a basis for constructive living. In Western Canada, today, definite trends are evident that the pioneer precept of "making a living" as a principal motive is passing, and there is a growing appreciation of the need of the complementary cultural force of "a way of living."

Prairie History. The latest addition to regional prairie history in this transitional movement is a book called "Third Crossing" by Margaret Morton Fahrni and her brother William L. Morton, Professor of History, University of Manitoba.

"Third Crossing" is the story of the town of Gladstone and region in Manitoba, and establishes a pattern for all other regional studies of our prairies. It is in succession to the "History of Western Canada to 1870-71" by the late Professor Arthur S. Morton, and to the "Birth of Western Canada" (1870-1885) by Dr. G. F. G. Stanley. "Third Crossing" is essential for the bookshelves of our homes and prairie community libraries.

Library Services. In Western Canada there is the greatest need for more adequate library services. Demonstration has proved that books of every kind for every need of any age can be provided at reasonable cost by a tax-supported system within a regional area serving twenty-five to forty-thousand people. By book van, by post, by book deposit centres, stimulated and guided by experienced librarians, there can be created a medium to provide the resources to maintain a cultural tradition of "living" for our Western Canadian homesteads.

A.M.A. ROAD SIGNS PROGRAM EXTENDED

Proper directional signs on Alberta highways are receiving the attention of officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

While the provincial public works department takes care of the signing of main highways, the A.M.A. has done considerable marking of second ary roads and junction points. Branches of the A.M.A. also have erected signs in cities for the convenience of motorists.

The Edmonton branch of the organization is carrying on extensive work, having arranged for at least 400 of these signs to be erected this season. Many of these signs have been placed on highways east of the city and more will be placed on roads leading into the Peace River country.

The A.M.A. also is preparing to see what steps can be taken to have better directional sign facilities in the city of Edmonton.

S TRIKE ACTION BRIEF ALBERTA FARMERS' UNION TOGETHER WITH UNITED FARMERS OF CANADA (SASKATCHEWAN SECTION) Presented to DOMINION CABINET IN AUGUST, 1946

This brief is being presented by the Alberta Farmers' Union and the United Farmers of Canada (Saskatchewan Section), representing a total of 102,000 members.

This delegation has come to Ottawa with a very definite purpose.
Since their inception, the farm organizations which we represent have worked to one end, and that is to secure parity for the Agricultural portion of our population.

By Parity, we mean a division of the National Income which will ensure the farmers their fair share.
According to latest available figures Agriculture now receives about 20 percent of the National Income, notwithstanding the fact that one-third of the people of Canada are employed in Agriculture.

During the war, Canadian farmers submitted to intolerable conditions to assist the National war effort, but they will now no longer tolerate such disparity. The dissatisfaction engendered by this situation is seriously affecting production in the west at the present time.

We consider the announced desire of the Food and Agriculture Organization (F.A.O.) to establish a definite measure of stability in the Agricultural Industry, in order that a maximum production of high quality food may at all times be available, to be of the utmost importance to us, at this time.

It is the considered opinion of the Western Canadian farmer that to maintain a high rate of efficient production it is absolutely essential that farmers be paid a price for their products that will provide an equitable standard of living.

We maintain the any price paid for farm produce which prevents efficient producers from maintaining a high operational and living standard, must ultimately result in reduced production, lower consumption, lower caloric intake and consequent malnutrition, keeping in mind the possible future need for some means of stabilization and possibly, controlled production.

With a view to remedying the conditions outlined in this preamble, we are submitting for your consideration the following definite requests and urge immediate action on same:

1. The immediate establishment of a permanent fact-finding board to determine Parity Prices, personnel of such board to be appointed equally by Farmers' direct membership organizations, Labor, Business and Government.
2. Prices for all farm products to be set on a basis of Parity as soon as such basis can be established by the fact-finding board, such prices to be open to revision at any time.
3. Farm Prices until Parity is established:
(a) Floor price for wheat $1.55 per bushel basis No. 1 Fort William for all wheat produced.
(b) Other farm products to be maintained at present levels.
(c) Prices of all goods which affect farm production costs be reinstated as of September 10, 1945.
(d) Abolition of the present Domestic Price system on wheat whereby the Canadian public is subsidized at the expense of the wheat producer.
(e) Participation Certificates for each year's wheat crop to be settled separately as soon as the crop is disposed of.
4. Revision of the system of bonuses on feed grains whereby the livestock feeder who raises his own feed grain will also receive the full benefit of the bonuses.
5. Removal of the 3 cents Federal Gasoline War Measures Tax.
6. Income Tax laws to be amended to conform with brief presented by Canadian Federation of Agriculture.
7. Co-op Institutions should not be considered in the same category as joint Stock Companies, and should therefore not be subject to any corporation or income tax.
8. A revision of the freight rate policy which discriminates against Western Canada.

9. The fullest possible use and expansion of the Port of Cham-pigny.
10. Immediate abolition of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.
Respectfully Submitted.

Like

Rain

INFLATION is no respecter of persons.
Like the rain, it falls on the just and the unjust alike.

If, through free and careless spending, inflation should descend upon Canada as it has upon many other nations, its evil would fall upon everyone.

Upon the shiftless, the thriftless, and the black market patrons... Yes...

But inflation's evil would fall equally on the "just"—those decent, honest, prudent citizens who observe the law and do not seek to satisfy selfish whims to the detriment of the community.

These, fortunately, are Canada's majority... these are Canada's No. 1 citizens. In their hands lies victory over inflation.

Here are their five cardinal points in personal financing:

- Hold on to Victory Bonds and Certificates.
- Buy only those goods which are in fair supply and save money for the day when goods now in short supply will be readily available.
- Avoid black market purchases.
- Keep up insurance.
- Build up savings accounts.

This is conservation—the first requisite of personal security—the first attribute of good citizenship.

Ensures More Safety

Pilot Feels Better When Flying At High Altitude

With the advent of the jet-propelled planes, selected Royal Air Force pilots have achieved speeds of over 620 miles an hour. The uninitiated might believe that such speed is dangerous in itself, but one of the pilots when questioned about how he felt stated that "there's nothing to it." Scientific equipment prevents the pilot from "blacking out".

There are thousands of planes in service today crossing oceans and continents at cruising speeds of 200 to 300 miles an hour, and there is rarely an accident through the machine cracking up in the air.

Flying was just coming into vogue about 40 years ago, but the only passengers were people who went up with the pilot for the sake of the thrill. Planes were not then deemed safe enough for passenger purposes. Speeds were slow in those days. When the Schneider Cup contest was first flown for the fastest mile in 1913, the winning plane recorded a speed of 44½ miles.

It was back in those days, and for two or three years before that, so many pioneer airmen were killed. Of course the machines were comparatively primitive, but it was the slow rate of speed that failed to keep the plane up and caused such a high percentage of crashes.

High speeds and high altitudes are safety factors. With a lot of air beneath him a pilot has more time and space in which to regain control. —St. Thomas Times-Journal.

New Time-Savers

Will Enable Women To Do Housework With Greater Speed

Electronics experts, chemists, home economists and other authorities agree that the day will soon be here when the Canadian housewife will be doing her cooking, cleaning, sewing, laundry and other tasks in much shorter time than ever before. This prediction is based on the large number of household improvements currently in production or already on the post-war market. These include new time-saving developments in vacuum cleaners, pressure cookers, sewing machines, to say nothing of the tremendous forward strides taken in the field of chemistry.

A prime example of the latter is an amazing new household cleaner that requires no rinsing and no wiping. It cleans all painted, varnished, enameled and linoleum surfaces in exactly half the usual cleaning time. Its secret is a special formula which picks up the dirt, and transfers it to the cloth, leaving the surface shining clean with no soapy streaks or sudsy cloth marks. Thus, there is no need to go over the cleaned surface again to rinse, and over again to wipe it dry!

The housewife merely dissolves some of the cleaner in hot water, wrings out a soft cloth well and goes over the surface with a few easy rubs. Painted walls, woodwork, linoleum and the like, come clean almost instantly. Even stubborn spots, like greasy smudges and rubber heel scuff marks disappear quickly and easily.

Another feature of this new product is its ability to make the next cleaning even easier, because it leaves a protective coat that seals out dust and dirt. Also, it's safe for paint, and safe for the hands.

The best way to dry out a wet fur coat is to suspend it from a padded hanger in a slight draft after brushing it thoroughly.

ANCIENT TOMB

Grim Story Reconstructed From Discovery In Peru

VIRU VALLEY, Peru.—American scientists in Northern Peru have discovered an ancient tomb that tells the grim story of a quadruple murder some 2,200 years ago.

While digging through the ruins of ancient cities, two Columbia University anthropologists a few days ago came upon the tomb of a warrior-priest. He, obviously, was of high standing in the Mochica tribe around 300 to 200 B.C.

Murdered and buried with him were two women from his retinue, a 10 or 12 year old boy, and an unidentified man. The warrior-priest, known as "a faaged diety", wore regal robes, a copper mask set with turquoise gems and beside him was an inlaid war mace of kingly design. The discovery was made by Dr. W. Dunean Strong and his assistant, Clifford Evans. Strong was formerly on the staff of the Chicago Natural History Museum. Evans, just out of the air corps, spent 11 months in a German prison camp. He is from Los Angeles.

"The spines of the women were twisted," Evans said. It was obvious that they had been stuffed into the tomb at the end of a pompous ceremony for the chieftain. Apparently, they were favorites of the chief.

"The warrior-priest's mace and the pieces of handcraft show him always with a page-boy. So, we assumed that the youngster had been the old man's court companion.

"The fourth body was that of a younger man. His identity has remained a mystery. The skull of the boy was unusually large. At first we thought he was a dwarf, but closer examination indicated that he was a youngster.

Seven other scientists, working here in Viru Valley, some 275 miles north of Lima, also have studied the newly-opened tomb, the historical importance of which has not yet been evaluated.

From a study of the tomb, the scientists arrived at the conclusion that the death of the Mochica chieftain had meant that his top court favorites also must die.

The chief, whom the scientists nicknamed "Old Omnipotent", apparently died of old age. Reconstruction of the scene indicated that the women undoubtedly knew they were to be sacrificed and buried with him. Since it is known that intoxicants were used in those days to deaden the senses of sacrificial victims and give them one last binge, it is believed that the women had been drunk on native brew, buried alive, or strangled while intoxicated and then interred.

The method of killing the boy and young man remained undetermined. The bones and trappings were well preserved because the sands in Viru Valley are rich with nitrate.

When the scientists touched the body of Old Omnipotent and his companions their remains fell to powder.

The other scientists working here represent the Chicago Natural History Museum, Smithsonian Institute, Guggenheim Foundation and the American Museum of Natural History in New York. Yale University's representative in the field already has returned to the United States.—Chicago Daily News.

Hitler Visited His Magnificent Eagle's Nest Only Five Times

BERCHTESGADEN. — Think no more of 1,000,000,000 pengo notes, of broken down used cars at $1,500—once upon a time tea here cost $25,000 a cup.

Heinz Koerner, former Wehrmacht soldier now employed at the Fuehrer's "eagle nest" atop the mountain, provided this information. This young German had been here when the place was restricted to super-select clientele, although he labored hard to give the impression that he had spent much time as a prisoner of war in Italy.

Heinz said Hitler visited this dizzy retreat only five times, that Goering had been here only three, and Martin Bormann, the deputy Fuehrer, only 10 times in all.

Heinz said the retreat never was used except to entertain at tea those "guests" who had settled some deal with the Fuehrer at the Obersalzberg chalet several thousand feet below. Heinz said that the retreat had cost $2,500,000.

Eighteen visits by the three Nazi high shots probably came to about 100 cups of tea. That's $25,000 a cup in rough figures in any language.

You can't get any tea at Berchtesgaden now, or even a drink of water. Germans tend the place and with what seems like very aloof reluctance take visitors to the top in the fancy bronze elevator.

There's a big sign at Berchtesgaden that says: "Property of United States Military Government. But don't believe that for a minute. The Germans think they own it.

TOP CASSEROLES WITH CRUMBS—Practically all casserole dishes are made more appetizing and delicious by the addition of a topping of well-seasoned crumbs. Sometimes the crumb mixture is combined with grated cheese, sometimes with salt, pepper and paprika.

A secret which modern cooks are adopting these days for all sorts of dishes which call for dry crumbs is that of using corn flakes or oven-popped rice cereal for this purpose. Always available, convenient, easy to use, these crisp cereals are a delightful time-saver for busy hostesses.

The easiest way to make crumbs of the proper "au gratin" texture is to pour the cereal onto a fresh tea towel, fold the sides over the cereal and roll the towel up, pressing down to crush the cereal. If fine crumbs are desired, open the towel and roll crumbs with rolling pin. This operation requires only a few seconds, and produces crumbs of fine texture, crisp and flavourful.

Not only do casserole dishes of various types require the addition of crumbs, but many fried foods, too, take on a crisply brown goodness when they're dipped in cereal crumbs.

Macaroni And Cheese With Crumb Topping

1 cup broken macaroni ½ teaspoon dry mustard
3 tablespoons shortening 2 cups milk
3 tablespoons flour 1 cup grated cheese
½ teaspoon salt 2 cups corn flakes
¼ teaspoon pepper 1 tablespoon melted butter

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender, about 15 minutes. Drain well. Melt shortening over hot water, stir in flour and seasonings. Add milk. Continue cooking until thickened, stirring frequently. Add cheese and stir until melted. Combine sauce with drained macaroni and pour into greased casserole. Mix finely crushed corn flakes with butter and sprinkle over top of macaroni. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) about 20 minutes. Yield: Four servings.

May Be Just Symbol

But Many Men Believe In Tradition Of Drake's Drum

According to Lieutenant Commander Peter Cranshall, RN, who writes in a British Information Services bulletin, there are many men still alive who claim to have heard Drake's drum. It beat at Trafalgar, they say, and it beat at Jutland when the cruiser Queen Mary blew up. The skipper of a cabin cruiser which was nosing into Dunkirk at the time of the evacuation heard something like the booming of a pom-pom, but there were no aircraft overhead and no pom-pom was firing.

A veteran navy man assured his skipper that it was Drake's drum "wot beats when the British Navy is in a tough place. Cheers you up like." In 1940, when invasion hung over England, Commander Cranshall was aboard a destroyer going out from Plymouth. As he passed Drake's Island, he says, he is almost certain he heard the drum.

It may have been, he admits, "the beating, pulsing heart of a proud little ship—or even perhaps of a proud people." And, heard or unheard, the drum is the symbol of a great tradition.—New York Herald Tribune.

Car Drivers

Are Men Or Women Safer At The Wheel?

The safe-driving campaign, as conducted in the Daily News is paying dividends.

As an entertaining battle-of-the-sexes, it has drawn sharply to the attention of both men and women the consequences of carelessness behind the wheel.

Incidentally, the campaign is well on the way toward providing an answer to the question, "Are men or women better drivers?" Men, according to the box score reading so far, are by and large more skillful at the wheel, but women take fewer chances.—Chicago Daily News.

The Girl Believed The Counter Had The Answer

An excited woman threw a faded apron on the counter in a shop. "Look at this!" she cried. "Just look at it!"

"I'm looking at it," said the girl behind the counter. "What about it?"

"What about it?" shouted the woman. "Why when you sold me that apron you said its color was fast. And what happened? The color came out at the very first washing!"

The girl looked surprised. "Well," she inquired, "wasn't that fast?"

WAGING A STRIKE

Many Industries May Be Closed Down In Canada

A little group of 400 strikers among the 37,000 on the picket lines across Canada today are waging a strike which, if prolonged, will have a paralyzing effect on Canadian industry and employment.

They are not rubber, brass, steel or auto workers. In fact, all the strikers in these industries could go back to work and Canadian industry would still be reeling—if the strike at Brunner Mond Canada Ltd. in Amherstburg should last a month more or longer. It has already been going since July 12.

Ever hear of soda ash? Technically known as sodium carbonate, it is a white powder that is sold in 100-pound bags. It enters into the manufacture of almost every commodity you can think of, and the Brunner Mond Company is the only one in Canada which manufactures soda ash.

This white powder is an important ingredient in the following industries: Glass, mining, textiles, chemicals, aluminum, food, pulp and paper, soap, fertilizer, gunpowder, and the refining of uranium at Port Hope and the building of highways.

Closing down the glass industry will not only put out of work employees in that line, but thousands more who earn their living in breweries, and soft drink firms will be affected if a bottle shortage develops. And the construction industry also will be hit, if there is no glass for windows. Ditto automobiles and others.

When the full effect of the soda ash famine is felt in the textile industry, it will mean more than another scarcity of shirts, socks, underwear and other clothing. Textiles, such as rayon, are used in the manufacture of rubber tires. There is now a shortage because of the rubber strike. But if the rubber strike ended, a textile shortage could still slow down tire output.

Soap is another commodity in short supply, and that condition will become worse once the soda ash situation grows serious. About 25 per cent. of the soda ash output from Brunner Mond goes into soap making. The caustic soda derivative of soda ash is used in the manufacture of explosives which are important in mining, highway construction and clearing farm land.

R. G. Zimmer, general superintendent of Brunner Mond, said that he had no way of knowing whether soda ash supplies in such industries as glass and soap are near the exhaustion point. But he estimated that if the strike continued much longer the situation would be critical, restricting or closing down several industries.

The strike was called by Local 89 of the United Auto Workers (C.I.O.), with the principal demands a wage increase of $2 a day and a 40-hour week. Attempts at mediation through a Government commission have failed.

POLIO A SERIOUS THREAT

The present outbreak of poliomyelitis in scattered sections of Canada is tragic—tragic in that it is killing and crippling many of its unfortunate victims, the Health League of Canada said in a recent statement. It added, however, that it should be emphasized that it is important that at this time Canadians do not lose sight of the fact that there are other diseases—preventable diseases—which year in and year out take a greater toll than poliomyelitis.

The statement said that while it is tragic that medical science has been unsuccessful in attempts to develop a preventive for poliomyelitis, it also is tragic that the Canadian public does not co-operate 100 per cent. in using the available means to wipe out or curb diseases which are either wholly or partially preventable.

It was pointed out that thousands of lives have been saved by the use of toxoid, which is almost 100 per cent. effective as a diphtheria immunizing agent. There is whooping cough vaccine which is 80 per cent. effective, and, in cases where immunized persons do contract whooping cough, the attacks are much milder. Scarlet fever's immunizing agent is a toxin which is 80 per cent. effective.

"However, despite the availability of these protective measures, the diseases concerned still menace the health of Canada's population, children particularly," the statement said. "As long as parents neglect to have their children immunized by these effective agents, these particular diseases will continue to prove a greater menace than polio, except in years when the latter is in severe epidemic stage."

The statement said a review of figures supplied by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reveals that during the first 29 weeks of 1946 there were reported in Canada 65 cases of poliomyelitis, 5,533 cases of scarlet fever, 4,131 of whooping cough and 1,234 of diphtheria.

It pointed out further that smallpox still could do a lot of damage if it ever became epidemic among the thousands of persons who have not been vaccinated. It was true there were only five cases in 1945 and no deaths—the first case in some years—but recently there had been an outbreak on the Pacific Coast. Mass vaccination of thousands of citizens probably had prevented an outbreak epidemic in proportion.

A Handy Tip

Janitors Have An Easy Way To Wash Painted Walls

Stop! Don't wash that wall from the top down. Wash it from the bottom up. And when you finish, starch it so it'll be easier to clean next time.

That's what the men said. They were janitors from 13 states who took a course at Columbia University to learn that cleaning is a science, not a chore.

It's like this, they theorized: When you tackle a wall from the top down, some of the dirty solution dribbles on the soiled wall below, leaving a streak even after the wall is cleaned. But if you start at the bottom and some of the solution runs down the wall, it's easy to rinse off and won't stain.

For a slick finish, boil ordinary starch in water for 20 minutes, then cool. Thin the jelly-like substance with water to cream consistency. Applied with a wide brush, it dries to an invisible film, starch (instead of paint) comes off with the dirt.—Pathfinder.

The last time, however, the custom was observed was at the coronation of Queen Victoria's predecessor, King William the Fourth. OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

FENCED STRAW

By M. J. COLLINS

Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

BILL TAYLOR liked the big city paper, even if it did come out a day late for its rural subscribers. It had lots of funnies, and he got a kick out of them.

Hardly had he settled in his rocking chair on the verandah when Mary, his wife, bustled out with her sewing basket and sat in the other easy chair. By her very attitude he knew that she had something on her mind.

"Do you know that Oliva went out with that Clay Milton?" Mary said several minutes later and, preoccupied as he was with the funnies, Bill noticed the emphasis on "that".

Putting his newspaper down he peered over his glasses at his wife.

"What's wrong with that?" he asked mildly. "Clay's bin around a mile. I'll admit, but I guess he's all right. I know you would rather see her go out with young Carson. He's a good lad."

"I want you to have a talk with the young lady when she comes home tonight," Mary said firmly. "Forbid her to go out with Clay Milton."

"Can't very well do that," Mary jumped to her feet. "Don't sit there, Bill Taylor, and tell me you're afraid to tell your daughter what to do. All you think about is your prize cows! Your family don't mean a thing to you. Sometimes I wonder why I ever married a farmer. You do it!" She slammed the screen door.

When Oliva came home Bill was in the kitchen having a snack. "Why, father!" she exclaimed. "What are you doing up at this hour?"

"One of the cows was sort of sick so I was keeping an eye on her. Want anything to eat?" Oliva shook her head.

"Have a good time?" Instantly she was on the defensive and he knew Mary had been nagging her about going out with Clay Milton. "Very nice."

"I'm glad you did. Clay is quite a gay fellow, tears around with all the girls and has fun. Probably won't ever settle down. We don't want you to settle down yet, you're much too young. That Carson chap is the steady, serious type—although he seems to be fun, too—but too much the settling down type for you. Might as well tear around for a few years longer." He stopped further comment by hitting into his sandwich.

"You're a dear, Dad," she cried, throwing her arms around him, "and I do love you."

"Now you hustle off to bed," he chided. "Remember that beauty sleep."

He sat there chuckling. There was only one more detail to be attended to. Next evening an angry young Jack Carson drove over. Oliva was waiting, perplexed, for he had phoned and said he had something to discuss. Bill had scowled openly at him but had said nothing.

The next day Oliva didn't mention what he had had to say but Jack came over again. Bill blocked his entrance into the verandah steps. "Mr. Carson," he said, "I strongly object to your going out with my daughter."

"Oliva doesn't, and that settles that," Jack answered belligerently. Bill retired to his rocker and his fannies. When they had gone, Mary flounced out. "I heard you, Bill Taylor! Have you gone out of your mind?" she demanded. "You know he's a nice, young man."

"Now don't get ruffled. Remember that stack of buckwheat straw in the back field? The cattle wouldn't eat it. I put a fence around it and they knocked it down, so they could eat the straw. I kept putting it up and they kept knocking it down, first thing I knew, the stack was gone."

"What in the world are you talking about?"

"Well, people like what's over the fence, so I did a little fence building. I told Oliva Clay was all right and I went over and told Jack to stop pestering my daughter, so now they've already broken the first fence. But they're engaged before the end of the month."

"Huh!" Mary snorted. "Sometimes you make me wonder."

But he was wrong—by the end of the month they were married.

THE ONLY WAY

A horse was led into a house in York road, Northampton, through the kitchen and out by the back garden. That was the only way to get it back on the road again after it fell into the basement area of the house; it could not climb up the steps. The horse, on a milk round, had bolted with the cart. The cart broke in two. Only two bottles of milk were spilled. And they were not on the car. They were standing in front of the house.

Annual consumption of gasoline in automobiles alone in the United States amounts to 14,500,000,000 gallons.

BRASS SHORTAGE

Many Employees Released From Work Owing To Scarcity

MONTREAL.—Canadian Industries Limited in a statement said that, owing to a serious shortage of brass and copper strip, it had been found necessary to curtail operations at the company's ammunition works in Brownsville, Que.

Approximately 275 employees of the CIL "Domolion" ammunition division plant will have to be released from employment as a result of this curtailment, the statement said.

The company said that earlier this year it appeared likely that major demands might be met by the end of 1946 and that at the end of July shipments totalled approximately a normal year's supply. However, during May, supplies of brass and copper strip essential to the manufacture of ammunition had ceased entirely, owing to a prolonged strike at the Toronto works of a supplier. As a result, production had declined at a time of depleted inventories.

"Caused by a wartime drop in sporting ammunition manufacture, the present shortage has been aggravated by low dealer and jobber stocks throughout the country," the CIL statement added.

The Following Recipe At This Season Is A Very Good One

"Be careful in your selection, do not choose too young, and take only such as have been reared in a good moral atmosphere. When once decided upon and selected, let that part remain forever settled and give your entire thought to preparation for domestic use."

"Some insist on keeping them in a pickle, while others are continually getting them into hot water. This only makes them sour, hard and sometimes bitter."

"Even poor varieties may be made sweet, good and tender by garrisoning with patience, well sweetened with smiles and flavored with kisses to taste; then wrap them in a mantle of charity, keep warm with a steady fire of domestic devotion, and serve with peaches and cream. When thus prepared they will keep for years."
